Personal Profile

A Self-taught UI/UX Designer Who believes design thinking can solve most of the problems. I can design beautiful user interfaces for both mobile and website. I've worked in cross-functional teams for the past 2+ years. I approach each design iteration and thinking as part of a living process. Nothing is rejected, nothing is one-directional. My long-term goal is to make things easy to use and delightful to everyone. When I'm not working, I love to travel

Experience

In my role as a UX/UI and Graphic Designer, I worked closely with developers throughout the product lifecycle, contributing design ideas and solutions to refine design components. I regularly interacted with stakeholders to gather feedback, present design concepts, and clarify design decisions. Additionally, I mentored junior designers by allocating tasks, guiding their work, and ensuring timely and high-quality delivery. My responsibilities also included collaborating with the marketing team to create visually compelling marketing designs that supported our brand strategy and objectives.
